Dear Carter,

I'm honored to write this letter in support of Magical Music For Life, for I have seen first hand what the organization can do. I think it's tempting in this time of iPods and downloads to think that music is an individual thing, when in fact it has never lost its power to move huge numbers of people.

The production quality is first-rate, as is the message. The power of Zak is so urgently needed these days, and the production manages to get its point across without being preachy or obvious. It's akin to freshly gathered ingredients prepared by a great chef in a superb restaurant: before you know it, you've taken in something wonderful. It's fast-moving family entertainment that deserves to be seen by the widest possible audience.

It was great to see you at the Frogtown Fair last Saturday, and I hope to see you again soon.

All best,
